

REOPENING RI: WE WANT TO HEAR FROM YOU

We want to help our state reopen safely and part of that is finding out what will make people feel comfortable using public transportation. We have instituted, and will continue, increased cleaning and sanitation measures for our vehicles and facilities. Face masks have been provided to all of our operators, and passengers are also asked to wear face coverings for everyone's health and safety. We are also limiting vehicle capacity to allow for proper social distancing and will continue to work with our state leaders as restrictions are reviewed and modified.

We want to know about your travel and commuting needs as Rhode Island reopens. Have they changed due to work-from-home options, or do you have specific concerns about using the bus? We want to hear your thoughts. Please click here to take our survey. We are here for you!

RIPTA IN THE COMMUNITY

CARING FOR OUR COMMUNITY

With ridership down as people stay home, RIPTA continues to partner with other state agencies and community organizations so that our vehicles and staff can give assistance wherever possible. We recently started working with the Rhode Island Office of Healthy Aging by helping to transport donated prepared meals to senior centers and community centers, which will then distribute the meals to their local residents. We are using vehicles and drivers from our RIdE paratransit division and our first stops in this new partnership were in Glocester and Burrillville.

These are difficult times for so many. We are happy to be able to lend a helping hand.

PEDALING FORWARD

Have you seen more people bicycling lately and wondered why? Maybe it's the need for exercise, the absence of the usual traffic, or cabin fever – or all of those factors. A coalition of groups dedicated to recreational and transportation paths in our state wants to find out more details in order to advocate for the needs of cyclists, now and in the future. Please help “Paths of Progress” with their research by taking their survey by clicking here.

WFH = $100 FOR THE RI FOOD BANK

Agile Mile, our partner in trip tracking and smart commuting rewards, donated $100 to the Rhode Island Community Food Bank last month once 100 telecommutes were recorded. Thank you for doing your part to flatten the curve - and for recording it!

Not earning rewards yet? It's easy and fun – just record your ride on RIPTA, bike, carpool with friends, and more. Looking for a carpool or vanpool? We can help with that too! Join today — it's free! Click here now.
